AUSTRALIA

COMO The Treasury Perth

It's named quite aptly, given all the goodies your kids get, from chocolate when they check in to other delights if they go on a Sweet Treats trail around the building. The plus for you: there's enough to do, both inside and outside, to burn the sugar, and children under 12 dine free at Post, the modern Australian restaurant. (www.comohotels.com)

Halcyon House New South Wales

Plenty of indigos and bright whites, crazy patterns teamed with solid colours, pictures and paintings on the walls—there is a comforting warmth that draws you in and holds you close. Or perhaps it's the food by Noma graduate Ben Devlin. We can't decide, but either way, we're not complaining. (<http://halcyonhouse.com.au>)

The Old Clare Hotel Sydney

There's nothing "old" about this new property, set bang in the middle of the neighbourhood of Chippendale (aka hipster central). Check in and check out the three cracking restaurants—by Jason Atherton (of 22 Ships, Pollen Street Social, The Clocktower), Sam Miller (formerly of Noma) and Clayton Wells (ex-Momofuku Seiobo).
